Volunteer Opportunities

Volunteering enriches your membership experience and is a way to earn PDUs. It expands your professional network, improves your knowledge base and helps you hone your leadership skills. The chapter offers various volunteer opportunities, such as outreach programs, serving on the ETPMI board and committees, and participating in local project management events, and representing the chapter in regional, national, and international Project Management Institute (PMI) conferences.

Professional Development

ETPMI is the premiere provider of professional development content for the ETPMI membership and project management community through offerings that lead to increased knowledge, paths to certifications, and retention of existing certifications. We have formed strategic partnerships with industry professionals and educational institutions to provide quality instruction for those seeking PMI certifications.

Members enjoy exclusive discounts to all ETPMI-sponsored professional development events. All attendees are guaranteed exceptional educational and networking opportunities.

Professional development opportunities include:

- Project Management Professional (PMP) Exam Prep certification courses
- An annual Professional Development Day to learn from industry professionals and network with peers in a full-day conference setting.
- An online library of project management titles for self-paced training, on topics such as Agile, Finance, Leadership, and Cybersecurity.
- Online and in-person PMI certification prep courses
- Online certificate programs including Effective Team Management, Business Communications, and Introduction to Agile
